MADE DEMOREST'S

SEWING MACHINE.
It is a practical, rapid, efficient and durable Sewing Machine, adapted in a large proportion of Family Sewing, or for manufacturing purposes, and is (weighing less than one pound) that it can be conveniently carried in the pocket or valise. It is a simple machine, and one that requires but a slight degree of judgment to use it. By the simple turning of a crank with one hand, and guiding the work with the other, it silently and very rapidly sews a complete seam. It is a running stitch exactly like Hand Sewing, and is more perfect and regular.

It will sew, wash, shirt, cloth, silk, and any material adapted to the running stitch. It is the lightest and most perfect of all the machines of the kind, and is so simple that it can be used by the most difficult to teach. For ladies and children's apparel, and other articles made of light fabrics, it will therefore be found most invaluable.

Synopsis of the President's Message.

He says the correspondence touching foreign affairs, which has taken place during the past year is herewith submitted in compliance with a request to that effect. If the condition of our relation with other nations is less gratifying than formerly is certainly more satisfactory than a nation's unhappily distracted might have reasonably apprehended.

A blockade of 3,000 miles of sea coast could not be established and righteously enforced in a season of great commercial activity like the present, without committing occasional mistakes and inflicting unintentional injuries upon foreign nations and subjects.

In clear cases of this kind I have, so far as possible, heard and redressed complaints by friendly powers. There is, however, a large and augmenting number of doubtful cases upon which the government is unable to agree with the governments whose protection is demanded by the claimants. There are moreover many cases in which the United States, or their citizens, suffer wrongs from the naval or military authorities of foreign nations which the government of these states are not at once prepared to redress.

I have proposed to some of the foreign states interested, mutual conventions to examine and adjust such complaints. This has been made especially to Great Britain, France, Spain and Prussia. In each case it has been kindly received but not yet formally adopted.

Applications have been made to me by many free born Americans of African descent to favor their emigration with a view to such colonization as was contemplated in recent acts of Congress. Other parties at home and abroad, some from interested and other motives have suggested similar measures, where on the other hand several of the Spanish American republics have protested against sending such colonies to their respective territories under these circumstances.

I have declined to move any colony to any state without first obtaining the consent of its government with an agreement on their part to receive, to protect such emigrants in all their rights as freemen, and I have at the same time offered to the several states, situated in the tropics, or having colonies there to negotiate with them subject to the advice, and consent of the senate to favor voluntary emigration of parties of that class to their respective territories upon conditions which shall be equal just and humane.

Liberia and Hayti are yet the only countries to which colonies of African descent from here, could go with certainty of being received and adopted as citizens; and I regret to say that such persons contemplating emigrate to those countries as to some others, nor willing as I think it interests demands.

I believe, however that the opinion is improving, and that ere long there will be an augmented and considerable emigration to both these countries.

Our relations with the European states remain undisturbed, and with the states of our continent, have improved, especially Mexico, Costa Rica, &c.

The President says the favored project of the Atlantic telegraph, and extending the Pacific line to connect with that being extended across the Russian Empire, and thinks that the mineral resources of the territories ought to be developed as fast as possible. Every step in that direction would have a tendency to improve the revenues.

It is worthy of consideration whether some extraordinary measures to promote that end cannot be adopted. The means which suggest itself as most likely to be effective is scientific exploration.

The vast expenditures incident to the military and naval operations required for the suppression of the rebellion have hitherto been met with a promptitude certainly unusual in similar circumstances, and the public credit has been fully maintained.

The continuance of the war, however, and the increased disbursements rendered necessary demand your best reflections as to the best modes of providing the necessary revenue.

The suspension of specie payment by the banks made large issue of Treasury notes unavoidable. In no other way could the payment of the troops and the satisfaction of other just demands be so economically or as well provided for. It is extremely doubtful whether a circulation of treasury notes payable in coin and sufficiently large for the wants of the people can be permanently, usefully and safely maintained. Is there any other mode in which the necessary provision for the public wants can be made, and the great advantage of a safe and uniform currency secured?

I know of none which promises so certain results; and at the same time so objectionable as the organization of banking associations, under a general act of Congress well guarded in its provisions.

To such associations the government might furnish circulating notes on the security of United States bonds deposited in the treasury.

The rates prepared under the supervision of proper officers, being uniform in appearance and security and convertible into coin, would at once protect labor against the evils of a vicious currency, and facilitate commerce by cheap exchange.

A modern reservation from the interest on the Bonds would compensate the U. S. for the preparation and distribution of the notes and a general supervision of that part of the public debt employed as security.

The public credit moreover would be greatly improved and the negotiation of new loans greatly facilitated. The steady demand for Government Bonds which the adoption of the proposed system would create.

It is an additional recommendation of the measure, of considerable weight in my judgment, that it would reconcile as far as possible all existing interests by the opportunity offered to existing institutions to reorganize under the act; substituting only the secured uniform national circulation for the local and various circulation now issued.

The President then gives a summary from the Secretary Treasury's report; refers to reports of Secretary's of Navy and War; says though lengthy, are only brief abstracts; says there is a decided improvement in a financial condition of Post Office Dept compared with preceding years. The Secretary of Interior reports public lands ceased to be a source of revenue. Speaking of Indian affairs and recent troubles says:

I submit for your special consideration whether our Indian system shall not be remodelled; suggests the earliest completion of the Pacific Railroad; also favorable action of Congress on projects for enlarging the great canals of New York, Illinois and Michigan.

The President refers to his compensated emancipation proclamation of Sept. 22d, and says that portion of the earth occupied by the people of the United States is well adapted to be the home of one national family but not two or more.

In the inaugural address I briefly pointed out the total inadequacy of disunion as a remedy for the differences between the people of the two sections.

I did so in language which I cannot improve. Physically speaking we cannot separate, we cannot remove our respective sections from each other, nor build an impassable wall between them. He then remarks at length of the difficulty of making any national boundary line.

The President then suggests amendments to the constitution, Congress concurring to be proposed to the legislatures or conventions of the several States, which if ratified by three-fourths of said legislatures to be valued as parts of said constitution. The first article proposes all States abolishing slavery before January 1st 1900, shall receive compensation from the United States. Second, all slaves freed by the chances of war, at any time before the end of the rebellion, shall be forever free, but all owners who had not been disloyal shall be compensated. Third, Congress may appropriate money, and otherwise provide for colonizing free colored persons, with their consent, at any place without the U. S.

The President discusses these articles at some length, asks them for a common object above property is to be sacrificed, it is not just, it is done at a common charge, and it will less money, or money more easily paid, we can preserve the benefits of the Union by this means, than we can by the war, it is not economical to do it. The proposed amendment would change the population, and proportionately increase the wealth of the country.

The President then says the plan consisting of these articles is recommended, not but that a restoration of the national authority would be accepted without its adoption; nor will the war proceeding, under the proclamation of September 22d, be stayed, because of the recommendation of this plan.

It is timely adoption, I doubt not, would bring restoration and thereby stay both, and notwithstanding this plan, the recommendation that Congress provided by law for compensating any state which may adopt the emancipation before this plan shall have been acted upon, is hereby earnestly renewed. This plan is recommended as a means not in conclusion of, but additional to all others, for restoring and preserving the national authority throughout the nation.

The subject is presented exclusively in its economical aspect. The plan is promised as a permanent, and constitutional law. In conclusion the President says. Dogmas of the quiet past are inadequate to the stormy present, the occasion is piled high with difficulty, and we must rise with the occasion.

The fiery trial through which we pass will light us down in honor or dishonor to the latest generation. We say that we are for the nation. The world will not forget that while we say this we do know how to save the Union. In giving freedom to slaves we ensure freedom to the free and honorable alike in what we give and what we preserve.

We shall nobly save or nobly lose the last best hope of the earth. Other means may succeed, this could not fail. The way is plain, peaceful, generous and just. A way which if followed, the world will forever applaud, and God will forever bless.

WHAT COMES OF GETTING A "SUBSTITUTE."—Persons anxious to avoid the draft will see by the following official notice that the act of procuring a substitute frees the latter, but leaves the principal still subject to draft:

Hon. Siles Livermore, Guthrieville, Penn.

Sir:—In reply to yours of the 24th ult., desiring to be informed of certain questions appertaining to the draft, the Secretary of War directs me to say that, when a drafted man furnishes a substitute the two change places. The principal is liable to another draft, if made, just as he would be if he had not been drafted at first, and the substitute is bound by the first draft of the principal, just as if he had been drafted himself.

Very resp'y, C. P. BUCKINGHAM,

Brig-Gen. and A. A. G.

The statistics at the Adjutant General's office show that 167,000 of the troops under the last call for 300,000 men are now in the field.

Twelve pair of boots, containing twelve bottles of whisky, were taken from beneath the clothes of a female mugger at Memphis recently, just as she was passing into Dixie.

Mongrel Wallings.—The Motor devotees nearly a column of fabricated innuendoes at the Crescent, the drafted men of this and an adjoining county, the "feel bad" at the result of the late election. Its conclusions are, 1st, that sheet is a big thing; 2d, the editors big muggins; 3d, the Crescent will get the County Printing and the Motor must cave in; 4th, Ontungum Volunteers are traitors because they voted the Democratic Ticket; 5th, our patriotic correspondent in the 6th reg't is a traitor because he won't turn Abolitionist; 6th, E. G. Ryan Address on the brain. If the yearlings will again engage in the bogus taxist business, or swallow a little bigger, they may obtain a substitute. How about that slender on the drafted men from Greenville? Where's Lawrence Barclay?

"The Green Bay Advocate says a total eclipse of the moon would occur this morning. We think we shall have a total eclipse of the Nation about the 1st of January next, if Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation operates as the Abolitionists claim it will. We have been troubled with a total eclipse of specie since March 4th 1861!

The Motor wants Jeff. Davis to come and edit the Crescent. Judging from the Nullification tendencies of that sheet, we should suppose Jeff. had scissored for it these years!

"There shall be weeping, and wailing, and gnashing of teeth"—read the Motor.

Literary Notices.

THE WISCONSIN FARMER.—This fine State Agricultural Monthly deserves from us more than a passing notice. It combines not only the Farm and Garden, but also devotes ample space to all the varied departments of fine literature, science art and general topics. Terms only $1 per annum—liberal premiums and discounts to clubs. Published at Madison, Wis. By the way, Mr. Farmer, please accept our thanks for that fine colored Map of the Southern States.

THE MILWAUKEE NEWS.—A prospectus of this reliable journal will be found in our paper to-day. The News has been a long and tried acquaintance of ours, and we will unequivocally say, no more readable paper graces our Editorial Table. Long life to the liveliest newspaper of the "City of Bricks!"

THE HOME JOURNAL.—In another column will be found the Yearly Programme of this chaste, literary Weekly. Its bright face always meets with a warm reception at our hands; its geniality is a sure remedy for melancholy.

HARPER'S WEEKLY.—We have been a constant reader of this standard Illustrated Weekly since its first No., and we cannot say any other periodical of the kind, is so valuable. The scenes of the war; the photographs of the great men of the Nation including the leading Generals in the field, are more valuable than its subscription price. $2.50 per annum. Harper Bros., Franklin Square, N. Y.

War Items.

Gen'l Pope, "played out" actor of the Army of the Potomac, has been assigned to Curtis' command, the latter about to be court-martialed for plundering the Gov't. Better send Curtis to some Foreign Mission, same as Cameron, inasmuch as he is a Republican!

Fremont is appointed commander of the defenses of Washington!!!

Col. Starkweather, of the 1st Wis., has been made a Brigadier General. Col. Cutler, of the 6th, ditto.

Brig-Gen'l Gibbons, of King's old brigade, is appointed a Major General.

Buell is being investigated at Cincinnati; Fitz-John Porter at Washington.

About 1,000 U. S. Officers have been discharged from the service on account of absenting themselves from their regiments, or in other words, cowardice.

Gen'l Rogers' army is actively on the move. Important results are anticipated. See's Smith will, it is said, soon leave the Cabinet. Good!

Abbeville, Miss., was occupied by our forces on Sunday. The enemy made a show of resistance at first, but after a spirited charge by our forces, they skedaddled, leaving over their batteries behind. They burned the depot, filled with commissary stores, &c., before we entered the town.

Our forces in Mississippi destroyed the bridges near Granada, last week, cutting off the enemy's retreat.

Rosecrans' army, with ten day's rations, have advanced towards Murfreesboro, where the rebels are strongly entrenched. A battle there is soon expected.

Burnside's army is principally engaged in heavy reconnoissances and active preparations for a heavy engagement. The rebels are well fortified on opposite side of the Rappahannock and well supplied with men and munitions.

700 loyal and 600 disloyal Indians had a severe battle on the 21st of Oct., at Fort Cobb, in the Indian Territory, in which the former were the victors. The Col. of the rebels was slain. Slaughter of the enemy very heavy.

Rob't W. Jackson, of Oklahoma, is commissioned 2d Lieut. of Co. C, 21st reg't.

Rev. Alfred Bronson, the old Pioneer of Methodism, is appointed Chaplain of the 28th reg't.

Gen. Blunt telegraphs that the rebels, 25,000 strong, are again concentrating near Cone Hill, preparatory to another attack on him.

Adjutant Gen. M. Beckwith, of the 32d, has been promoted as Aid to Gen'l Denver. The 32d is the lion of the day down South.

Gen. Sherman has left Memphis with 30,000 men for "the South." The 32d Regiment is among them.

A correspondent writing from Aquia Creek, says, daily, in fact momentarily expect to hear the first gun fired that will insure the first grand battle of the campaign, for it is in this vicinity that not only the entire rebel army is concentrated; 100,000 strong; but also the three divisions which go to make up the army of the Potomac.

Grand Army of the South is all in motion. Gen. Grant's army struck their tent down yesterday, and marched off on Holly Spring road. Seven days' rations were prepared; only one tent left, lowdown twenty men, and one to the office of each regiment. The rebels have fallen back towards Nevada, a tearing up the track burning bridges as they are moving; their valuables from Jackson, Miss. The rebels continue to raise earthworks around Fredericksburg, some rebel cavalry, cross the river made a descent upon two companies of the 3rd Pa. Cavalry near Hardt capturing nearly the entire two companies.

Gen Butler is about to place overseers on captured plantations to save the cotton a sugar. The new cotton crop is coming in quite freely.

Also a steamer Don was towing a federal gun, from Sabon Pass to New Orleans she was assailed by a volley from 40 rebel troops concealed in a mile. The federal force opened fire on the mill end town, destroying the mill in a few residences, and stung fire to a few other buildings.

Rear Admiral Elie A. F. Lavolette, U. S. N., died at Philadelphia on Tuesday evening, aged, 31 years.

Senator Rice, of Minnesota, declined the appointment of Major General in the army.

Law Wase, the nephew of Gov. Wise was appted at Owensboro a short time since, and sent to Vicksburg to be exchanged. It is said that the New York Senate is a w between the parties. This, at any rate, will prevent the election of an abolitionist to the United States Senate.

A Philosopher, on being asked from whence he received his first lesson in wisdom, replied—"From the blind, who never takes step until they have felt the ground before them."

Our exports exclusive of gold during the last fiscal year, show a deficit as compared with 1860 of one hundred and thirty-four millions less than in 1861.

The Democrats carried the town election at Hartford Conn. on Monday last, by 34 majority. The entire democratic ticket is elected for the first time in the fall twenty years.

INQUIRING MINDS—When Daniel Webster and his brother Ezekiel were together, they had frequent literary disputes, and on one occasion, after they had retired to bed, they entered into a squabble about a certain passage in one of their school books, and having risen to examine some of authorities in their possession, they set their bed-clothes on fire, and nearly burned their father's dwelling. On being questioned the next morning in regard to the accident, Daniel remarked, "that they were in pursuit of light, but got more than they wanted."

A railroad has been opened across the Swedish peninsula, connecting the port of Gottenburg, on the Cattegat, with Stockholm, the capital. The whole line is three hundred and twenty miles long, and its completion will enable travellers to reach St. Petersburg at all seasons of the year by a more expeditious route than through Germany and Southern Russia. The opening ceremonies took place on the 4th inst., when the Swedish King and Parliament, attended and passed over the line. The road was constructed by the Government.

A Miscellaneous Vertebrata would certainly be a curiosity in zoology. Mr. G. C. Wallach figures and describes, in the Oct. number of the Magazine of Natural History, a perfect lower jaw with fully developed teeth, found by him in mud dredged up at St. Helena. This jaw is only the hundredth of an inch in length, which is proportion would make the animal to which it was attached not longer probably than one-twentieth of an inch.
